

Accelerating the College and Career Readiness of West Virginia's Students

West Virginia is in the process of transitioning to new English language arts and mathematics standards that will better prepare students to be successful in college and their careers. Time, effort, and resources must be dedicated to effective implementation in order to realize the promise of these new common core state standards.

IN TODAY'S ECONOMY, ALL STUDENTS MUST GRADUATE FROM HIGH SCHOOL READY TO SUCCEED IN COLLEGE AND THEIR CAREERS

*Graduation within six years of entrance (Cohort from 2002–2008)

Graduation within three years of entrance (Cohort from 2005–2008)

Students in West Virginia who began college but did not return for a second year received a cumulative $21.5 million in federal grants and a cumulative $99.6 million in state expenditures.⁴

HIGHER LEVELS OF COLLEGE AND CAREER READINESS EQUALS HIGHER EMPLOYMENT

Bolster economic vitality: Over 6,900 students did not graduate from West Virginia's high schools in 2010; the lost lifetime earnings in West Virginia for that class of dropouts total $1.8 billion.⁶

TO ACCELERATE COLLEGE AND CAREER READINESS, WEST VIRGINIA TEACHERS SEE THE NEED FOR FEWER, CLEARER, AND BETTER STANDARDS

Impact of Improving Standards on Academic Achievement from West Virginia's Teachers View⁷

	Clearer Academic Standards	Common Standards Across All States	Tougher Academic Standards	Fewer Academic Standards
Strong or Very Strong Effect	76%	67%	53%	46%
Moderate Effect	22%	25%	34%	29%
No Effect	2%	8%	12%	26%

WEST VIRGINIA DECIDED TO IMPROVE ITS STANDARDS TO SUPPORT COLLEGE AND CAREER READINESS AND IS WORKING ON IMPLEMENTATION OF COMMON CORE STATE STANDARDS

- West Virginia was one of forty-eight states that participated in the creation of the common core state standards, which build on the best state standards and go further by internationally benchmarking and back-mapping them for grades K–12.
- As of April 2011, West Virginia was one of forty-four states to have adopted the common core state standards in mathematics and English language arts.

TO HAVE A CLEAR MEASURE OF COLLEGE AND CAREER READINESS, STATE ASSESSMENTS MUST ACCURATELY REFLECT STUDENT ACHIEVEMENT; CURRENT TESTS DO NOT

West Virginia's Eighth-Grade Proficiency as Measured by West Virginia State Tests and the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP)⁸

	State	NAEP
Reading	61%	22%
Math	53%	19%

- The average gap nationally between state- and NAEP-reported reading scores is 41 percentage points. West Virginia's gap is 39 percentage points.
- The average gap nationally between state- and NAEP-reported math scores is 32 percentage points. West Virginia's gap is 34 percentage points.

WEST VIRGINIA IS ONE OF FORTY-FIVE STATES WORKING TO CREATE COMMON ASSESSMENT SYSTEMS ALIGNED TO COLLEGE- AND CAREER-READY STANDARDS

Two groups of states have formed to develop these next-generation assessment systems, scheduled to be available during the 2014–15 school year. West Virginia is participating in Smarter Balanced Assessment Consortium. For more information, visit <http://www.k12.wa.us/smarter/>.

CONSISTENT STANDARDS AND ASSESSMENTS MAKE COMMON AND ECONOMIC SENSE

- Ease transition for students who move from state to state. In 2009, about 7,922 school-aged children moved to West Virginia from another state; about 6,953 students moved from West Virginia to another state.⁹
- Help states realize economies of scale and improve test quality by working together. Currently, states spend a combined $1.3 billion annually to develop, publish, administer, score, and report on their own state tests.¹⁰
- Reduce the need for remediation in college. The need for remediation among students entering West Virginia's postsecondary institutions unprepared for postsecondary work cost the state nearly $16 million during the 2007–08 school year.¹¹
